Triton College influence:

Triton College set me on a path to success. This is due, to the fact, that it taught me discipline and agility in learning which continues to this day. Having flexibility as a young adult with class schedules was important. Offering a wide variety of course options that kept up with fast-paced changes in all aspects of education. The ability to change and adapt with society, with a diverse curriculum that was cognizant to my needs and expectations. I was able to extrapolate my beginnings at Triton to mold my future of success in the business world. I was able to teach train others, and personally grow in extensive/expansive world of business. This is true to al of the business categories that I have been involved with through my career with Walgreens and now Truenorth. Whether, I was working on real estate, Human resources, marketing, or sales, I can refer back to my start, my core knowledge I earned at Triton College
