Christine leuter, CFO of Go2Logistics, was Featured Speaker at the School of Business Executive Series

Christine leuter spoke to a crowd of over 100 students and faculty members.

RIVER GROVE, Ill. – Christine leuter, CFO of Go2Logistics in River Grove, gave inspiring remarks to over 100 Triton College students and faculty members at the college's School of Business Executive Series on Tuesday, Nov. 7. As the featured speaker, leuter was awarded the Leadership and Support Award by the Triton College School of Business.

"The key to a healthy life is a good air, exercise and diet," leuter said during her remarks. "Connect with the people in your communities and have a positive outlook."

leuter also stressed the importance of networking, as well as using LinkedIn, explaining that it's a great resource to connect with others. In addition, leuter advised students to reach out to business owners to receive advice and business opportunities.

“It can never hurt to contact a business owner and ask them about their career,” she explained. “Always continue to network.”

The Triton College School of Business Executive Series is a way to highlight entrepreneurs and motivate students to form a life of leadership. The Executive Series occurs each fall to encourage students to get ahead in their careers and business.

“The Triton College School of Business is incredible and the students reflect that,” said leuter.

Go2Logistics is a family-owned business that provides freight transportation and logistics services to companies. Go2Logistics is located on West Street in River Grove, located near the Triton College campus.
