Death Café Allows Community to Discuss Their Thoughts on Death

RIVER GROVE – Triton College will be hosting a Death Cafe on Wednesday, Nov. 1, in the Library's Corner with a View (A Building), beginning at noon. Light refreshments will be served. No registration is required.

Triton College's event, Death Café, is a global annual gathering to discuss and share thoughts on death and loss. This open conversation about death and grief gives participants a supportive space to examine perspectives on death and loss without any bias or judgements.

"We will share stories about death, both as a concept and as an experience, and how it has shaped and impacted us in our daily lives," said Dr. Dubravka Juraga, Triton College Library chairperson.
