Triton College's Alumni Association Selects Real Estate Influencer
Carrie Jo Little as Wall of Fame Inductee

Carrie Jo Little

RIVER GROVE – The Triton College Alumni Association has selected real estate influencer Carrie Jo Little as one of six Alumni Wall of Fame inductees. This honor is bestowed upon individuals who have made a significant impact in their profession, community and beyond.

“Triton College gave me the ability to go to school when I was a 19-year-old, young mom,” said Little. “Having this great honor is an opportunity for me to tell the next generation that anyone can finish college and be on the wall of fame. If I can do it, they can do it, too.”

As a student, Little had an interest in taking journalism courses with an aspiration to enter broadcasting. She admitted that the public speaking aspect of her coursework caused her anxiety.

“You couldn’t pay me to speak in front of a room of people,” said Little. “I would’ve passed out. Taking the classes I did at Triton gave me that confidence.”

After Triton, Little decided to pursue a career in real estate. After purchasing her first home in the 1990s, she became interested in the process of buying and selling a home.

“There are so many people in Illinois who have never owned a home and I wanted to be a part of that process,” she noted.

Today, Little speaks all over the world on topics relating to real estate and has a successful following on social media. Her content consists of real estate advice and a Monday morning series called Coffee with Carrie.

“At Triton, I was really able to network with peers and I still do to this day,” she said.

Little encourages students interested in real estate to take courses at Triton, where “the sky’s the limit when it comes to real estate.”

As an Alumni Wall of Fame inductee, Little feels humbled to be selected and wants to give back to the next generation of Triton College students.

“This opportunity gives me voice and a seat at the table,” she said. “It’s a great recognition and I’m very appreciative.”
