

The Cernan Earth and Space Center is named for astronaut Eugene A. Cernan (CAPT, USN, Retired) who was born on March 14, 1934, and raised in suburban Bellwood, not far from the Triton College campus where the Cernan Earth and Space Center is located.

Before becoming an astronaut, Gene Cernan was an American naval officer, naval aviator, electrical engineer, aeronautical engineer, and fighter pilot. He flew aboard the Gemini 9, Apollo 10, and Apollo 17 missions.

In December 1972, Captain Cernan was the last astronaut to leave his footprints on the lunar surface.

Why join our crew?

Your membership not only comes with benefits, but also supports the educational and outreach mission of the Cernan Earth and Space Center. Our goal is to increase people's awareness, understanding, and appreciation of the incredible universe that surrounds us.

The heart of the Cernan Center is the Planetarium where programs take audiences of all ages on dramatic voyages of discovery. Astronomy and space exploration are frequent topics, but some shows address other sciences such as geology, meteorology, engineering, paleontology - even astrobiology. Other programs explore history, culture, art, music and more.

The Planetarium also presents Cosmic Light Shows where brilliant laser light, fulldome digital effects, and thousands of stars perform to the amazing music of artists such as The Beatles, Pink Floyd, Queen, and Michael Jackson.

While here, browse the unique selection of gifts for science enthusiasts in the Star Store, and enjoy plenty of free parking!
