RIVER GROVE, Ill. – Triton College's radiologic technology students won first place at the Illinois State Society of Radiologic Technologists (ISSRT) Conference's Scholar Bowl, April 12-14, in Bloomington, Ill.

Radiologic students Mehalis Papazoglou, Xochitl Sopoci, Hajar Mesra and Rachell Joy Baracoso, who competed in the Scholar Bowl, were awarded medals, ribbons and a trophy.

The students had to answer several questions that will be on their industry-standard exam.

“This was definitely a confidence booster,” said Papazoglou of the win.

Baracoso added she felt “euphoric” winning first place and hopes Triton will compete again next year.

Besides Triton’s success at the Scholar Bowl, students also placed second and third in the Kahoot Review Quiz, out of a total of 180 students, winning gift cards.

“Since this was the first year that Triton attended this conference, we didn’t really know what to expect,” said Nancy Rizo, Triton’s clinical coordinator. “It definitely felt so good to win. Our students did all the work and earned their trophy.”
